Short-Sea-Service

The true alternative to road transport

Short sea shipping offers a viable alternative to road transport, allowing you to book 45' and 45' high cube containers that match the internal dimensions of a classic truck. This ensures no transit time delays and full utilization of a truck's loading volume, especially for routes like Ireland.

The shipping container becomes a truck

In addition to the classic standard containers, pallet-width 45' containers are also used in short sea transport. This means that the internal dimensions match those of a classic truck and therefore offer a viable alternative for road transport.
